

Scottish Preconception Health Research Network

- Informal network for those who are doing research and/or clinical work in preconception health in Scotland
  - Collaborative community of researchers
  - Facilitate collaborations
  - Maximise/ attract funding for preconception health research
  - Ensure research is aligned with Scottish populations needs
- Branched out from the UK Preconception Partnership
- Established in February 2024... please get in touch if interested

- Dr Sinéad Currie, Lecturer in Health Psychology, University of Stirling
- Emma Brough, PhD student and Nutritionist, Abertay University
- Shivali Lakhani, PhD student and Pharmacist, Robert Gordon University
- Dr Aileen Grant, Associate Professor and medical Sociologist, Robert Gordon University
- Prof Rebecca Renyolds, Professor of Metabolic Medicine, University of Edinburgh, Honorary Consultant Physician in Diabetes & Endocrinology, NHS Lothian
- Prof Abha Maheshwari, Consultant in Reproductive Medicine, Director of Aberdeen Fertility Centre, NHS Grampian
- Eric Chen, Researcher in Public Health, NHS Lothian, Honorary Fellow at the University of Edinburgh
- Dr Louise Marryat, Baxter Fellow at the University of Dundee
- New members always welcome...

